

Laura Vincent-Arnold pursued a MS degree in Art Therapy after noticing the emotions that emerged from her own art making process while completing her BA of Fine Art Degree. After years in the mental health field and limited art making of her own, she has decided to offer groups that are not therapy but utilize therapeutic aspects of art making to gaining great insight and self-awareness.